An Exciting Episode at the Hearing of Applications for Licenses-The Tape Measure Used on Saloons-Bridge Trustees Ignored.

The meeting of the Brooklyn Excise Board yesterday was marked by a rather exciting episode. The Board met to conaider applications from men whose sa-loons are within 200 feet of schools, churches and religious institutions. Rev. F. B. Russell and Secretary T. De Quincy Tully, of the Law Enforcement Society. were present for a while.

Commissioner Hacker arose and said upon they were ordered to leave.

The Rev. Mr. Russell walked out, but containing $4.50. Mr. Tully showed a disposition to remain.

The Board then granted several applications and refused licenses for No. 64 Meeker avenue, No. 69 Myrtle avenue and No. 1813 Bergen street. The Bridge trustees protested against the licensing of No. 171 Washington street, but a license was granted. The house is owned by ex-Police Catain Michael Doberty, of New York.

Been Illegally Kept from the Rightful Heirs.

The integrity of the Edwin Baker estate, of Brooklyn, was assailed in the Supreme Court yesterday, by Mrs. Callle M. Veihl, of Orange, N. J., on behalf of her daughters, Irene C., Edith and Emily Campbell, The girls are the grandchildren of the late Augustus Campbell. The latter, who is now dead, transferred four parcels of property to Baker without consideration. It had been previously agreed, however, that the property should be transferred to Mrs. Campbell for the joint benefit of herself and her children It is alleged by Mrs. Viehl that Baker Illegally retained possession of the property, legally retained possession of the property, and also that Mrs. Campbell subsequently secured a divorce from her husband in Connecticut. It is alleged further that Baker, during Mrs. Campbell's life, retained the income from the property.
